A few more huts here and there but still it is the odds and ends of june seventeenth nineteen seventy one: One enveloping many; Many enveloping one Helter-skelter rummagings of lost love affairs and "are you happy are you sad can you tell me pain you've had" Smoke-filled boxes with doors you can hear down at the other end of the math wing. How crucial were those must-involvements. (But do not over-extend yourself!) Groveton Action to Stop Pollution floated into the halls along with Susan B. Anthony: Mrs. Torrice. Cheerleaders were carrying on with friday morning incredulous spiritings while Kimball Jonas fought for his peace and quiet. Do we smoke? Or do we ramble on over health and wealth and S.P.T.A. meetings with 14

WHAT WERE THE CHANGES THERE . . . HERE?

parents. Do we smoke? In the boxes with doors you can hear down at the other end of the math wing; 70 percent, so where is the box marked Smoking Lounge? Seven-Forty was the boundary line for parking at random, Or was it eight-thirty, Or was it the football field! February eleventh nineteen seventy two brought the layout staff to a raging head against the copy staff What is a tiger-ama anyway?!? Free School tore through the school with some cry of liberalization "and don't it always seem to go that you don't know what you got till it's gone . . ." Free School. No Free School! The Keyettes failed in their effort to bring a Planned Parenthood assembly to Groveton. And friday is a monday, saturday is a sunday is a sunday night is School! Summertree and A Night of One Acts sang through in the fall (hey tie dye man, woodstock . . .!) and there were those vogues and popular photographs to sell, along with "The Goldrush." Did Groveton ever win a football game Did Groveton ever lose a basketball game! The regionals again and again. (Victory over T.C. and defeat again by West Springfield.) So did we have a queen or did we have a queen?! The Elective Programs invaded the Social Studies Department along with the English Department, and the art program turned into an incredibly new area. While the Keyettes held a pancake breakfast, some student from Herndon was stepping up to the school board for the first time. Mini Courses came into being and gave us a new variety of courses. Three days in late winter granted us The Sun; so how many people came to your English class???

I light to watch the halls of a building take color. There are bits of blues and reds and striking oranges in my path. A scream, a chant, a whisper of awakenings through cheesecloth. I light to touch the ribbons of the chalk walls here; geometric corridors would be better without some pale pink. Its a long time to hang from a swinging door and eat peanut butter bars at lunch; but watching the halls take color is a little glow. Everyday is bound by hard cover whispers, labels upon labels pressed onto the side of this book in silver. I light, though, to glance through it's print—what is it—Arabic? Hebrew? Chinese? I suppose it is some language we built up out of a school song someone fiddled with once upon a time, when we were all in love with Elvis.

I light to hear our language draping it's way through the class. Some are demure; some are clutching at any given word or glance; some push to show they are real. I light to see. We are all real here. Real in our unrealness; real in our uniqueness; real in our oneness—or is it two-thousandness?

Whether we drop hints of uncouth gestures to passers-by, I light to hear their questioning tones. For we are silky sounds amidst rough and rigid squawks; we are two-thousand-oneness amidst small scatters of untied ends.

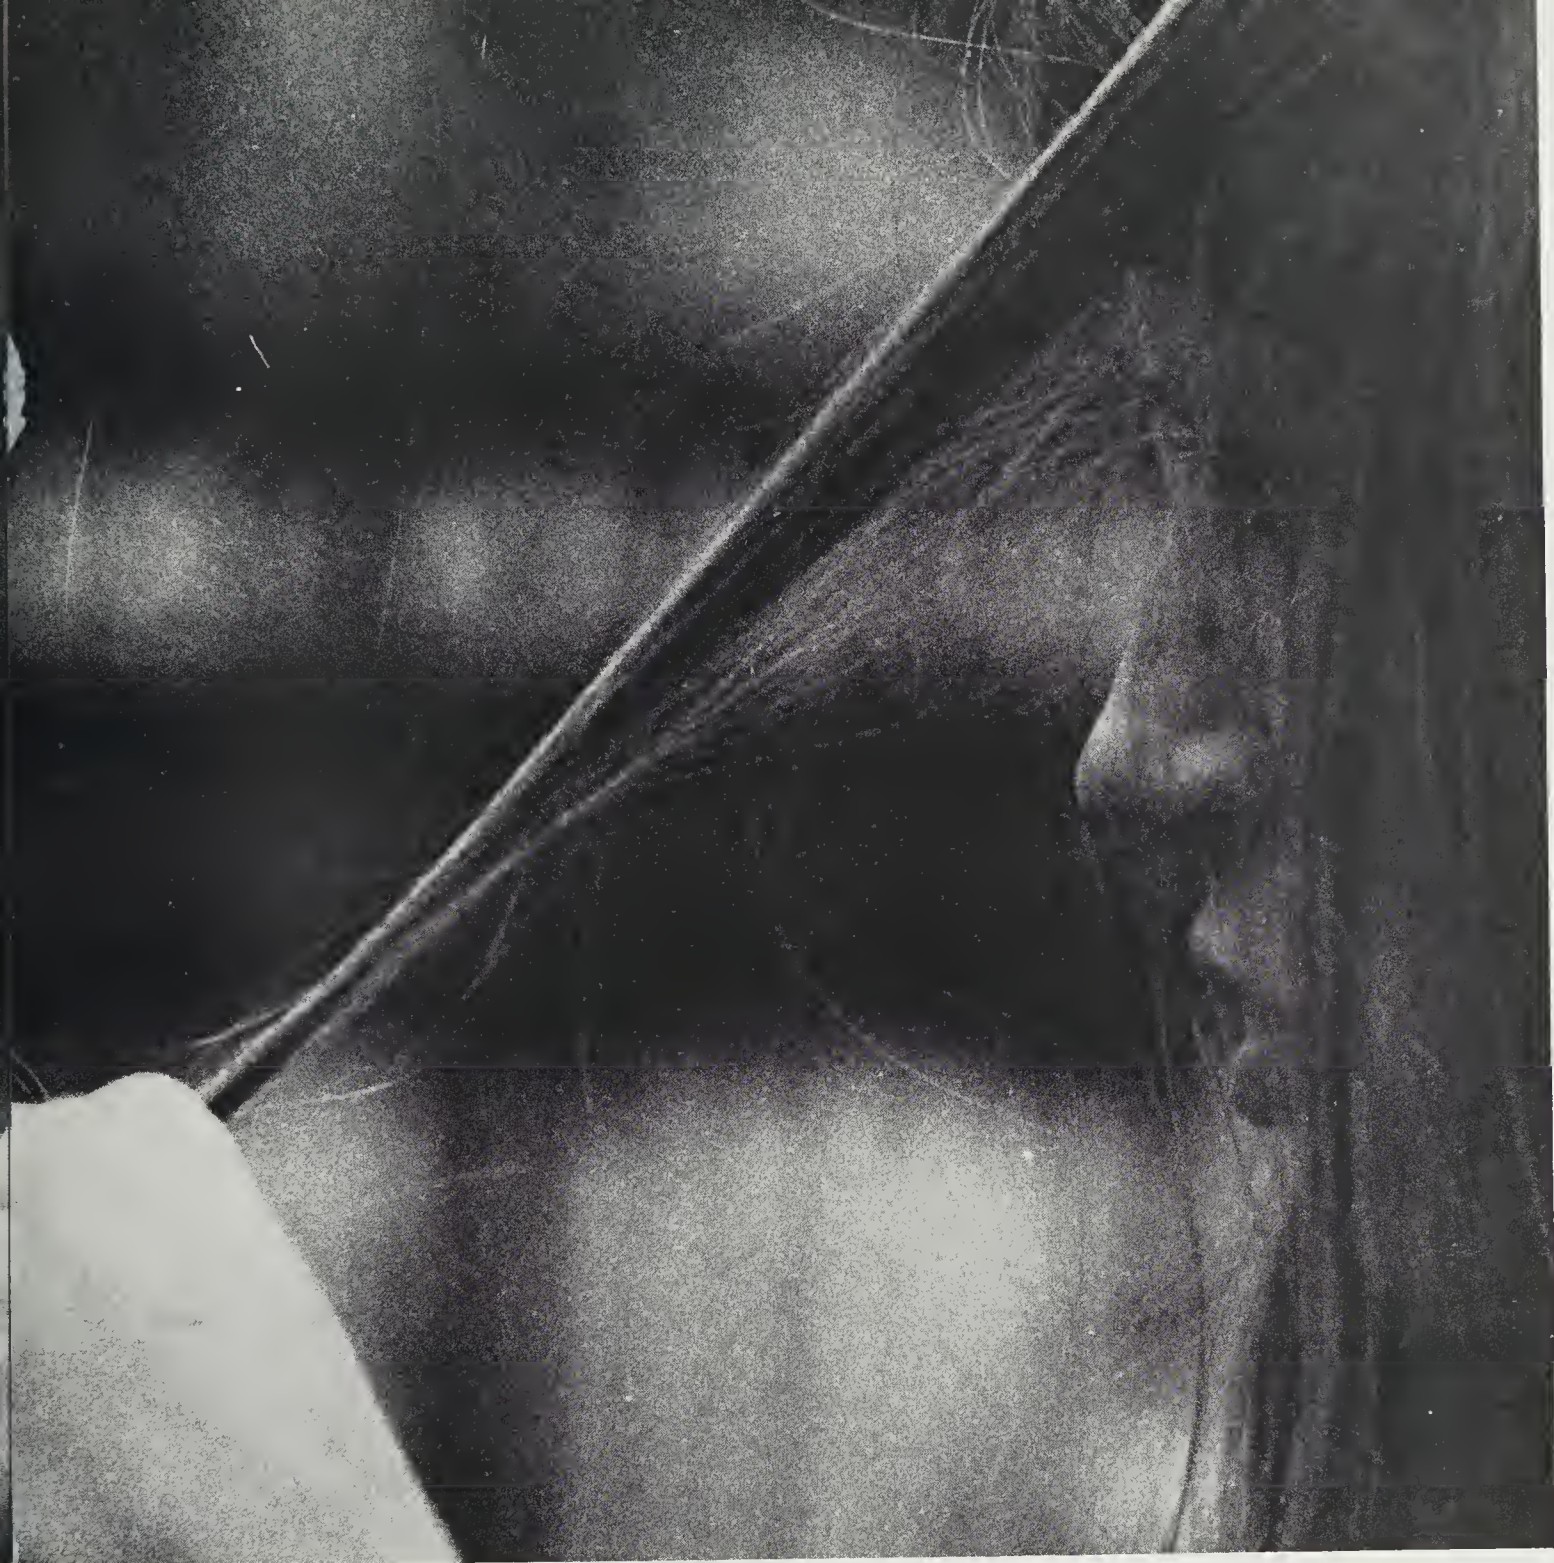

Bending forward and leaning backward
and so a trading of ideas; colors.
These human relations are simply the way
in which we make each other sympathetic to each other.

A day like many other days, with latecomers blowing inside (Along with the North Wind), while from the classrooms comes the sound of teeth chattering in rhythm to the clunk of the cold heaters; but it will be remembered as "the day free-school died" . . . the cancer of apathy strikes everywhere! Throughout the day, bells ring and anonymous faces pour into the poster-painted arteries . . . (Come to the Keyette Pancake Breakfast!) Caught in the current of the crowd's stream, you cannot stand apart, sink in and touch our bodies as we touch yours; becoming a unique flotsam in a sea of masses. Fourth period comes and seniors get measured for caps and gowns . . . at Gino's. Down in the cafeteria, today's hotdogs seem a poor comparison to last night's "Delicious Organic Dinner." Up on the hill a snowy battle rages; with the only casualties: some broken windows. The day drags on, and the office finally gives up paging all the people who never came this morning. A final bell rings, and soon outside the window, figures hop around, frantically, as the mudhole (commonly known as the upper parking lot) devours their cars. As usual, there is the inevitable bakesale.

TIGERAMA

From day to day it is . . . giving up . . . everything . . . (My new address is Room 140) . . . a redhead for an editor . . . (shades of Lucille Ball) . .
Questions were answered . . . Call Ebhardt! . . . and rules were broken
In the closet" . . . Oh . . . Somehow the chaos organizes, Who says we have to have a faculty index?
those ever-elusive photographers . . . and football teams . .
Sharon, go back, we need more rub-ons" . . . Well you are what you write have you ever spent Christmas working on a deadline? . . . Mr.
book is produced . . . on time we hope . . .
but always at the last minute, and a year
ACTUALLY A SCHOOL HISTORY BUT INEVITABLY
THE QUESTION ARISES,

A strategy for pieces alone will not suffice;
the art of human manipulation must also be learned (chose your opponent as cautiously
as you move your pawn).

ARTS

i suppose it is a means by which to unburden stiffness in a day. but also it is some kind of sound it makes when the clay slaps on the wheel or is it the ineffable some

SENIOR CLASS

Officers: (l. to r.) Patty Hodson, Secretary; Ellis Duncan, President; Bill Bartlemes, Vice President; Not pictured: Ray O'Hara, Treasurer

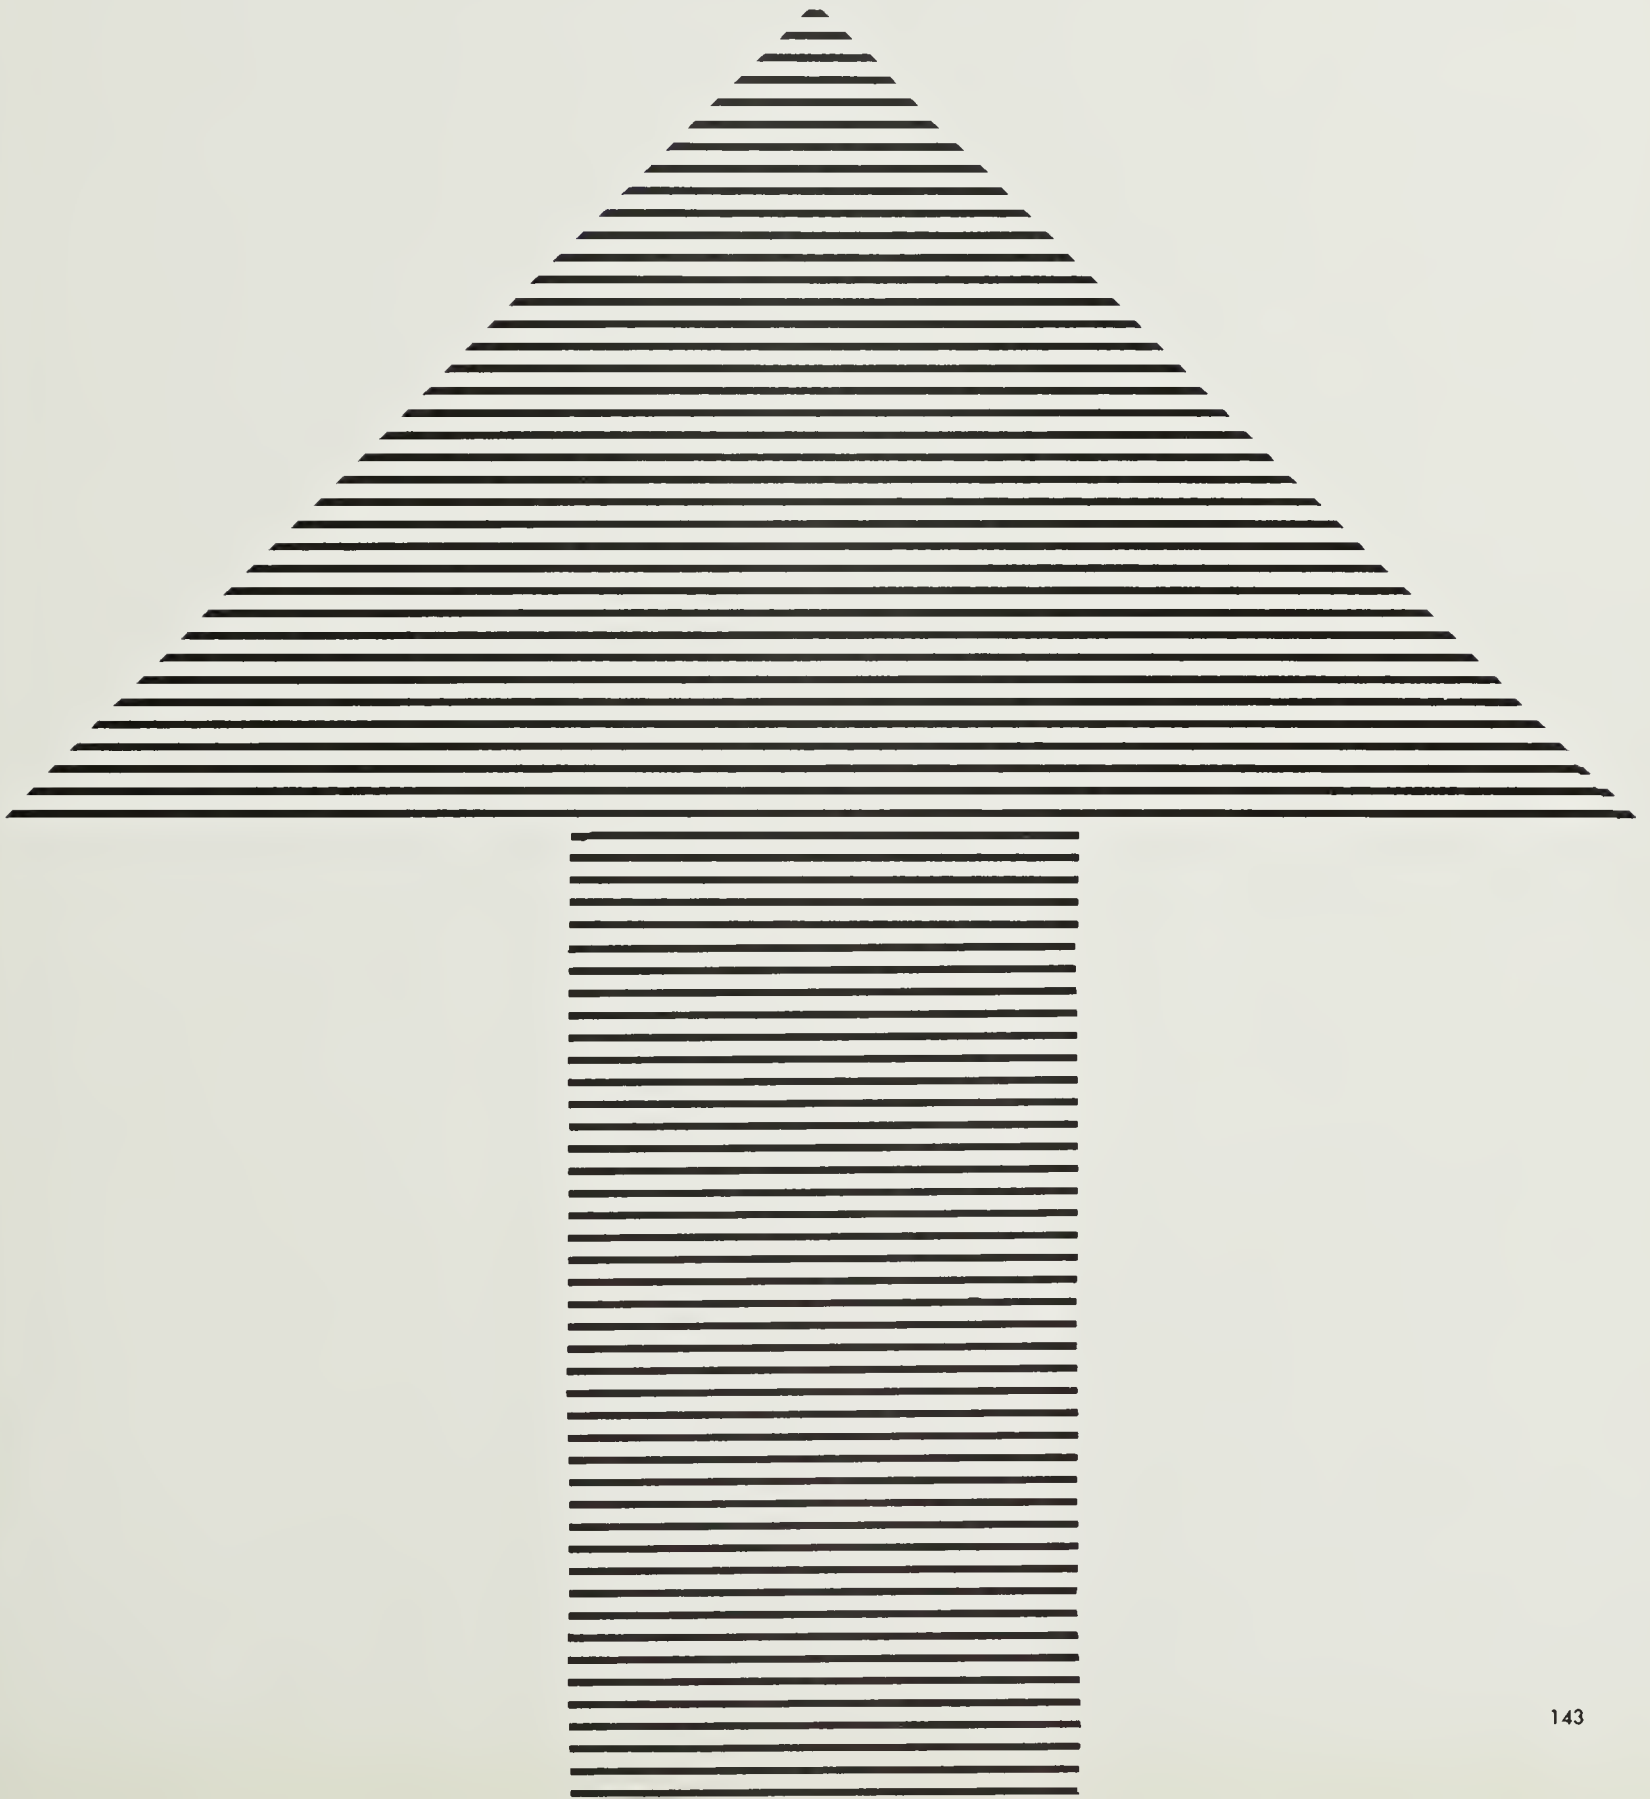

The twilight has arrived, so celebrate we must, our seniorty. Some greet this as a culmination of dreams, with visions of proms and caps and gowns dancing through their heads. Others jump to the tune of S.A.T.'s and application deadlines, sharing a common, not so quiet, desperation 'til those acceptances start rollin' in. And then there are those joyful only because this is the final act of a nightmarish charade.

Yet we all share the excitement, for soon, very soon, we shall be free . . .

AND THEN . . .

i am one face You are another. We collide
We mix match dance away. You are one life i am another and then we are clumped into a panavision of generalization:
Why do you tatoo us Freshman (We are People . . .)
It is delight It is disappointment It is newness and stale peanut butter.
It is everything you thought it would be in 5th grade.
Extremeties and likeness of moment
Unpredictable and monotonous are these Freshman courses . . .
and an inch of unsure that is said to be mellow and melodramatic . . .

"i wish i had a river i could skate away on . . ."
Well first year is up kown fantasy turmoil
Superlatives and yawn.
Superlatives Yawn.

WE SURVIVED. FIVE MONTHS AND GRAYNESS OVER. OPEN THE DOORS AND LET US OUT! FRISBY ON THE HILL, BASEBALL AND TRACK PRACTICE, OR JUST LAYING IN THE SUN AGAIN. HIGH SCHOOL SPORTS SEEMED TO EMERGE FROM THE ALL AMERICAN MOLD WITH THE FORMATION OF A SOCCER TEAM, AND A STEP FORWARD FOR THE SISTERHOOD AS GIRLS TRIED OUT FOR THE GOLF TEAM. THE BOXED VOICE IN HOMEROOM ANNOUNCED

AWARDS AND SELECTIONS THAT HINTED THE YEAR WAS COMING TO A CLOSE. THERE WERE CELEBRATIONS OF A YEAR'S WORK WITH TWO GROVETON STUDENTS IN ALL STATE CHORUS, TWO SENIORS MAKING 800's ON ACHIEVEMENTS, AND THE DRAMA DEPARTMENT'S "IT'S CALLED A SUGARPLUM" IN THE ONE-ACT PLAY FESTIVAL. THERE WAS COLOR—EVEN A BIT OF GREEN BETWEEN THE QUONSET HUTS AND THE NURSERY SCHOOL'S PAINTINGS ON THE WALL. THE HERDS IN THE HALL BEGAN TO LINGER A BIT LONGER THAN USUAL AT THE WATER FOUNTAIN AS SENIOR-SLUMP COMBINED WITH SPRING FEVER. BODIES BECAME RECOGNIZED WITHOUT THEIR WINTER COATS, TESTIFYING THE TIME HAD COME. AND SOON EVERYTHING POURED TOWARD THE END. SPRING BREAK. SENIOR SKIP DAY. IT WAS ALL BEGINNING TO END.
